
THIS COLUMN, AS MOST of you are aware, has no set theme.

It is sort of a catch-all for various tid-bits that come across our desk that we think might be of interest to you.

It also serves as a sounding board in which we can air some of our pet philosophies and, in addition, we often report personal experiences and incidents.

There are times, obviously, when the contents of this column probably bore you to death.

That's sort of an occupational hazard with which we have learned to live.

We recall, for example, some years ago that when we underwent major surgery, "our operation" dominated the column for some time.

And we heard about it from one of our "constant readers".

This guy by letter suggested, in a less than subtle manner, that we should get off on another subject.

Of course, the guy had a good point.

Except that "our operation", in our opinion, (and we haven't changed our mind) was THE outstanding event of our life.

You might say that it really cut quite a swathe.

We recognize, however, that we probably did overdo it.

On the other hand, of course, our friend didn't have to read it.

Unfortunately, we really don't have a captive audience.

BUT A CAPTIVE AUDIence we did have the other night.

Along with six other representatives of the newspaper of the county we were on a panel at a dinner meeting of the Inter-City Council.

The Inter-City Council is composed of city councilmen and county officials.

The newspaper people were guests in what was described as a "dialogue" session. The avowed purpose was to establish a better understanding and rapport and to air mutual grievances, etc.....

There was no planned presentation on the part of the members of the press.

Each of us, however, was given an opportunity to sound off and then the city and county officials had a chance to respond.

It was quite an interesting affair and, as you might guess, there were some divergent viewpoints presented.

There was no bloodshed, we are happy to report.

Both "sides" conducted themselves with decorum, although some ideas were submitted with vigor.

The newspaper people, of course, "editorialized" to their heart's content. It was a rare opportunity for them.

The "captive" audience appeared, on the surface at least, to listen to the whole bit.

That's something one is never sure of with the printed word.

The reader can quit after the first sentence. Or before.

-0-

BUT, AS IS THE CASE in written editorials, one never knows exactly how the editor comes across in such situations.

Therefore, we were pleased to receive the following note from Assemblyman Richard D. Hayden, former Sunnyvale mayor, commenting on the meeting.

"Dear George:

"I just want you to know that I have heard some very interesting comments about your presentation before the Santa Clara County Inter-City Council.

"My administrative aide wrote me a rather extensive report relative to the presentation and the comments and questions from the floor. It

City may get two - cent tax cut

Council to set rate, adopt final budget next Monday

Campbell's city tax rate will be reduced two cents from that of last year, if the recommendation of the city manager is accepted by the City Council next Monday, Aug. 23. The City Council will adopt the final budget and set the tax rate at that time.

City Manager Bob Stephens reported this week that, because of a more healthy condition of the city reserves that what had been estimated when the tentative budget was adopted in June, it will be possible to finance the city's budget by an overall city tax of $2.02 per $100 assessed valuation, as compared to $2.04 last year. (The tax rate includes 13-cents for the Campbell Lighting District which is the same as last year.

Stephens pointed out that, because of the higher reserve, it will also be possible to replace items totalling $47,298 that had been cut out of the tentative budget, but held high priority. At the same time the basic city reserve of $50,000 (established by Council policy) would be increased to $75,000.

The city manager indicated that the $75,000 reserve is a much "safer" figure in view of possible eventualities that could occur during the fiscal year.

The budget that was approved in June totalled $3,725,880 and with the $47,298 that Stephens suggests should be added will come to $3,773,178. (The Council last night, after press time, met in a study session on the manager's recommendations, but will officially act on the matter at the budget hearing next Monday.

Stephens explained that the recommended tax rate of $2.04 is broken down as follows (Last year's figures in parenthesis): operation tax, $1.18 ($1.18); city hall furnishings $.12 ($.18); bond indebtedness $.59 ($.55); lighting district, $.13 ($.13).

Stephens noted that, when the tentative budget was adopted in JUne only $22,090 had been earmarked for reserves. The final figures based on surpluses from unexpended portions of last year's budget, plus increased sales tax revenue, brought the reserve total up to $121,745, an increase of $99,655.

He said that the assessed valuation had increased to more than $60 million from last year's total of $56,134,060 or about 6.8% which was almost "on the nose" of the estimate made by Jeff Whittaker, city finance director.

In the study sessions prior to the adoption of the tentative budget in June, the City Council had reduced the requests of the department heads by $213,190, the city manager noted.

At his request, after the tentative budget had been adopted, the department heads had made a new list of needs on a priority basis which

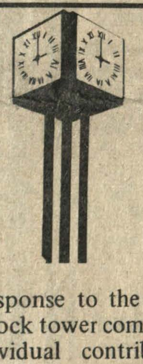
"THE BIG FREEZE"

Indications were this week that proposed salary increases for Campbell city employees that were scheduled to go into effect on Oct. 1 will have to wait until the presidential "freeze" is over.

On the other hand, employees of the school district whose raises were approved effective July 1, may still get 'em.

The general reaction on the local front to the "big freeze" appeared to be favorable, providing the presidential edict was carried out fairly throughout the nation.



Ticking ahead with the clock tower

In response to the appeal by the clock tower committee, 10 individual contributions have been made to date totalling $220 toward the goal of $1700 that is needed to finance the clock tower at the new city hall.

The drive for funds from individuals is spearheaded by the Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of a committee headed by Bob Tellesen. A kiddies matinee and a premiere movie netted the fund $3000 and the appeal for individual donations is the third phase of the fund-raising project.

Although in the original plans, the interest of economy, the clock tower was eliminated by the City Council. The CofC then initiated the drive with the prime objective of involving the citizens in the special civic project.

Fred Chez, local developer, took the lead by contributing a $50 check.

This week, Tellesen reported, that 10 other contributions have been received.

The list of donors to date: Chez, Norm Paul, Mrs. Aplonea Tindall, Mrs. Mary Federer, Myron Alexander, Rex Jeffers, Campbell Lumber Co., Campbell Water Co., Kirkorian, San Jose Water Works, and Mrs. Dorothy Kahn.

Tellesen noted that Mrs. Kahn was one of the first to send in her contribution after the drive was announced.

Contributions to the clock tower fund should be sent to "Clock Tower", c/o CofC office, 100 W. Rincon Ave., or P. O. Box 85.

Appeal goes to Council

At the City Council meeting next Monday night (Aug. 23), the Council will be asked to overrule a decision of the Planning Commission with respect to a warehouse/office building of Wilburdon Construction Co., at 645 McGlincey Ln.

The Commission refused to approve the building because more space had been allowed for offices than were in the original plans, affecting the parking space ratio.

The construction firm is appealing the Commission ruling.

The main feature of the Council meeting, however, will concern the adoption of the final budget and the setting of the tax rate (story on front page).

Also on the agenda will be a resolution establishing a joint construction between Sanitation District #4 and the city relative to sewer lines and storm drains into the San Tomas area.

The Council is also scheduled to take action on the granting of an easement at Rincon Park to allow Pacific Telephone to go underground in the area.

READY FOR PREMIERE--Valerie Chance and Drew Lucas practice a dance scene from "The Boyfriend" the first presentation of the Campbell Civic Theater which opens Friday at 8 p.m. at Campbell High School Auditorium. The student-directed, student-acted production of the spoof of the 20's will be repeated on Saturday night. All proceeds will go to the John D. Morgan Fund, benefiting Campbell's Chief of Police who has been hospitalized since February. Tickets will be available at the door or call 378-8448.

West Valley Colts battle for world championship in Indiana

The West Valley Colts are in Lafayette, Indiana today and will play in the world series opener at 6 p.m. (Wednesday) against Puerto Rico.

The Colts won the division championship on Sunday after playing five straight games, winning four, in the play-offs at National City, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Colts played their first game against Anaheim on Thursday losing 1-2. Both teams scored in the second inning.

On Friday the team played Peninsula (Palos Verdes) scoring in the 6th and 7th innings to win 3-2. George Hahn hit a triple and Gordon Hahn scored on Jay Peryam's sacrifice fly.

Saturday's game saw the Colts defeating Nat-Par 11-1. Jeff Mason, Pat Hughes and Bill Moore each drove in two hits.

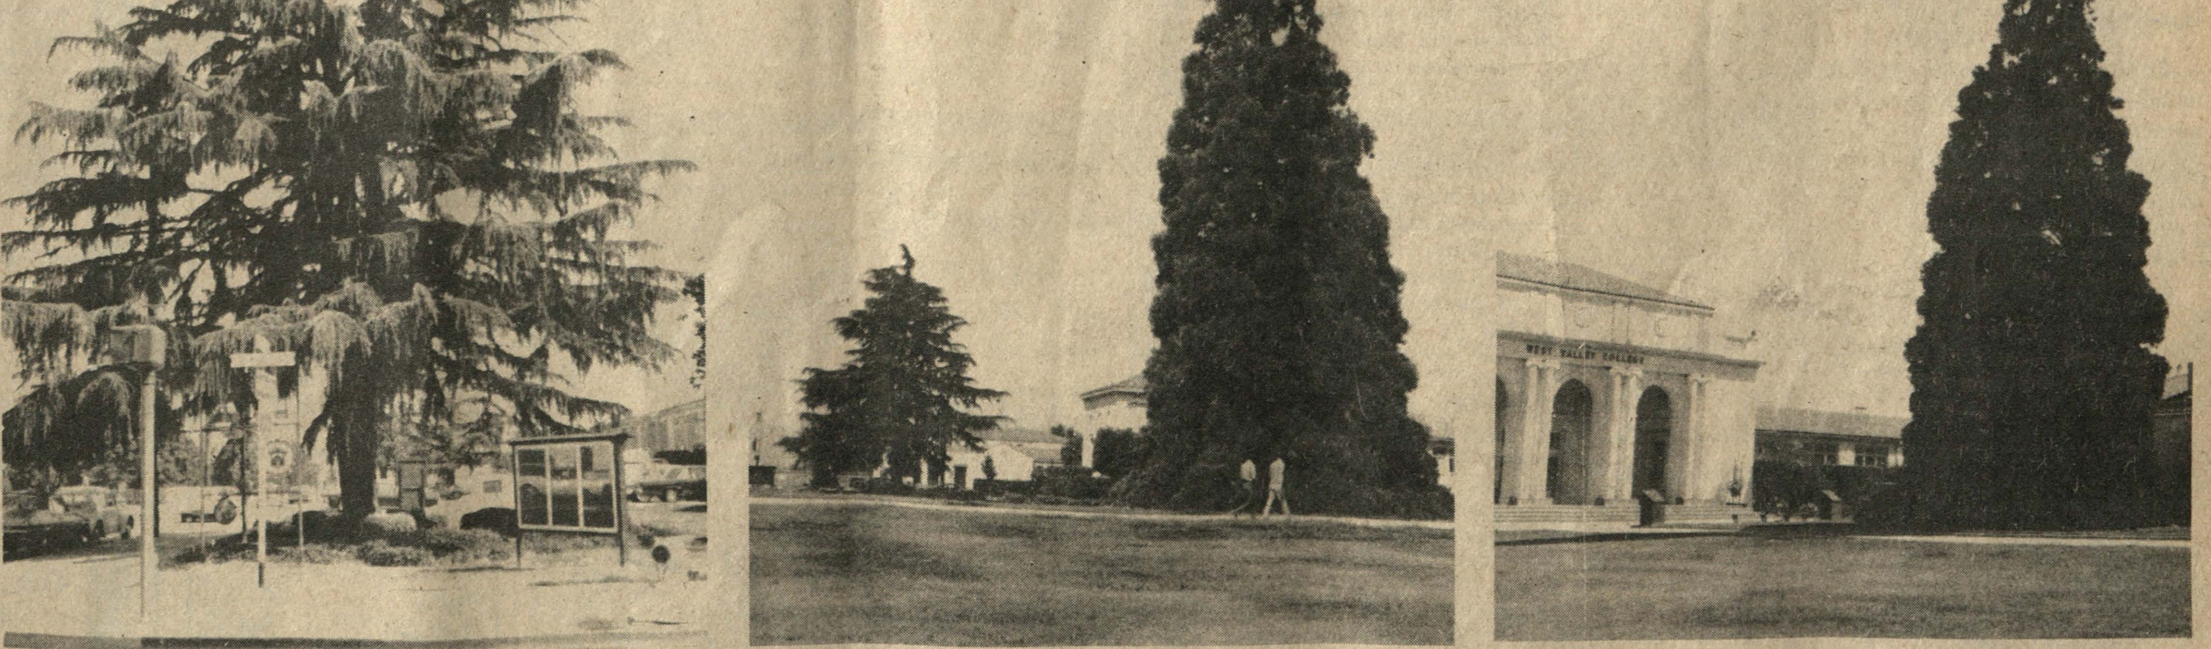
Sunday's game was a double-header, with the Colts meeting Anaheim again and defeating them 4-2. Gordon Hahn hit a home run at the 4 p.m. game.

At 7 p.m. the two teams met again. The single run was scored by John Dilles who hit a triple and was singled in by Jay Peryam. Anaheim was scoreless and the Colts emerged on top 1-0.

Four teams competed in the tournament. The Colts, as the winning team, now is competing in Lafayette, Indiana for the world championship.

While in Lafayette, they will be housed in the dormitories at Purdue University.

TO BE MOVED--Approval was granted California Savings and Loan Co. by the Planning Commission to move the two-story duplex (above) from its present location at 1980 S. Bascom (near Campbell Ave.) onto property at 910 S. Michael Drive which is now zoned for multiple dwellings. The building will be brought up to all building and fire codes at the time of the move, according to Wally Byron, city building official. The building contains 10,400 square feet with a lot coverage of 1142 square feet. The plot plan indecates that it will be placed on the rear of the lot with a future four-unit apartment in front. Plans also call for the roof of the duplex to be changed to shakes. The savings and loan firm has indicated that it plans to build an office on the site where the duplex is now located.



WELL--IT WAS LIKE THIS---The Campbell Garden Club has requested the City Council to designate a Gigantia Sequoia located on the temporary campus of West Valley College (Campbell Ave. at Winchester) as an official landmark for the city.

The tree was donated and planted by students of Campbell Grammar School more than 50 years ago.

The city attorney is now checking out all the legal ramifications involved in making such an official designation.

SO--The Campbell Press thought it was important to picture the tree that the good ladies of the garden club wanted protected.

Thus in issue of Aug. 4, smack-dab on the front page appeared a picture of a tree that was located on the campus.

But it was the wrong tree.

Pictured was a Deodara, not a Sequoia. (The Press photographer now has been given a crash course on forestry).

Today is pictured (1) rerun of the first photo, (wrong tree); (2) the right tree, and (3) both of 'em. Not necessarily in that order.

Editorial

Bag your trash

The month of August has been officially proclaimed by the City of Campbell as "Bag Your Trash-Keep A Clean Street" month.

A proclamation duly signed by Mayor Ralph Doetsch, Sr., was executed to that effect on August 4.

We are well aware that hundreds of special "weeks" and "months" have been set aside. There are so many, as a matter of fact, that few people, except those who sponsor them, realize that these "special" periods actually exist.

By the same token, there have been hundreds of "proclamations" issued by the mayor. Most of the time these proclamations merely go on the record and that is the end of it.

Seldom does this newspaper print the various proclamations that are issued in full. They generally contain so many "whereases" and other miscellaneous wording that most newspapers find it more expedient just to summarize and report that such and such proclamation was signed.

However, the proclamation for "Bag Your Trash-Keep a Clean City" month, we think, deserves more than a mere notation.

While we concede that more than two weeks of this "special month" have gone by and probably you can count on the fingers of one hand those who know that it "officially" exists, the fact remains that the idea is still a good one.

Whether there has been any improvement in the condition of the streets or whether some potential litterbug has been thwarted are not really relevant points.

Officially August has been designated in Campbell as "Bag Your Trash-Keep a Clean Street" month, and by gum, that's the way it is.

In the official proclamation, incidentally, even the "whereases" make sense. We quote in part:

"WHEREAS, Campbell is known as a clean City---and

"WHEREAS, this has been made possible because every man, woman and child is aware of the importance of not littering, and

"WHEREAS, a clean city attracts investors and keeps property values from going down, and

"WHEREAS, the environment is threatened on all sides by many forms of pollution, and

"WHEREAS, the amount of household refuse is expected to almost double within the next 10 years; and the cost of solid waste handling now ranks third among public services; and it is the individual responsibility of each citizen to take pride in his environment and to assist in controlling the problem of waste disposal, and

"WHEREAS, each of the efforts to aid in the fight to curb pollution deserves the full support of all public spirited citizens, and

"WHEREAS, all citizens should join in activities which will help further the effort to enhance our environment and to control the problem of mounting refuse through the conscientious use of polyethylene trash bags as liners for steel garbage cans, for both garden and household waste.

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that I, Ralph Doetsch, Sr., proclaim the month of August "Bag Your Trash-Keep A Clean Street" month, and urge everyone to cooperate."

We are well aware that proclaiming such a month in Campbell will probably not make much of a dent in the overall conditions that exist with respect to any ecology factors.

Yet we think it is extremely important to emphasize from time to time just how important the individual citizen is in any attempt to improve the environmental conditions.

Not one will probably have any more nerve during special month than he would at any other time to confront some clown who tosses a beer can out of the car window or drops a bottle on the ground when he is finished with it.

Anyway, we like the proclamation which has designated August as "Bag Your Trash-Keep a Clean Street" month.

So, let's cooperate.

sounds like you had an interesting evening. As the former president of the Santa Clara Inter-City Council, I wish I had been there to have taken part in the session.

"Apparently, the mayors and councilmen heard some things that they did not accept too well, but I am convinced in my own mind that these things needed to be said and they needed to be heard.

"Thank you for taking the time from your busy schedule to take part in discussing problems with the elcted and appointed officials of Santa Clara County.

"Sincerely,
Richard D. Hayden."

CONCEDING THAT THE word "dialogue" is becoming a trifle over-worked nowadays, (one group is always trying to establish it with another), such sessions with the press participating even serve a useful purpose.

We have found that most newspaper people are quite articulate even without being armed with a typewriter.

We think it is because they relish the idea of "hearing" their written words.

At the same time, these dialogue sessions give members of the audience a chance to respond on the spot to these oral "editorials" instead of "threatening to write a letter to the editor" as is the case when they disagree with the written jobs.

Needless to say too few go the "letter-to-the-editor" route. Consequently, their opposition remains dormant.

That is not so, obviously, in a dialogue session such as the one the Inter-City Council sponsored with the press.

One might say there was instant reaction.

Or one might say something else.

-0-

RECENTLY IN THIS column we mentioned a situation in which we had used the salutation "uncle" in addressing an individual in which we were engaged in an animated discussion.

We pointed out that we had used "uncle" frequently with our friends on sort of a routine basis without any to-do.

In the case we mentioned, however, the person we were addressing wondered what our intent was in using the familiar term.

We managed to explain in a satisfactory manner. But we have used the salutation more sparingly since that time.

-0-

NOW FROM TEMPLE City in southern California comes a note from an old buddy of ours who elaborates more extensively on the use and abuse of "uncle".

It's nice to know that we are not alone in this idiocyncrasy.

We have a kinship with our friend, "Uncle Al".

-0-

HERE'S AL'S NOTE:

"Dear George,

"The space devoted to the term "Uncle" in The Press (via The Limb) was quite interesting.

"I too have used the term for many years as did my family when referring or talking to someone who really didn't have any blood ties, but we would like to have communication with a better than a Joe to Jack situation.

"In other words, when the "Uncle" was put on someone, it was someone we thought of more than just a passing friend or acquaintance---

"True, there would be times when the youngsters in the family would question the title by saying---'but is he really my uncle?' And this would be answered by saying---'not in terms of your Uncle Frank or Uncle Jim; they are family. But "Uncle Frank" is a pretty nice guy and we would like to have him in our family....

"So---if you want to call me Uncle Al---I'd be most proud!

"The best to you and Aunt Dorothy.....Al."

That's enough on that subject.

Remember that expression when we were kids, when you wanted your opponent to give up?

"Say Uncle."

OUT ON THE LIMB IS A good place to report that apparently we don't know one tree from another.

Some of you may recall that some weeks ago there was a picture on the front page of the tree that the Campbell Garden Club has requested the City Council to designate as an official landmark.

The tree was located on the corner of Winchester and Campbell Avenues at West Valley College, across the street from where the Roosevelt Redwood (planted in 1903 by President Theodore) had been removed.

The tree in question had been donated by the kids in Campbell Grammar School some 50 years ago. The Garden Club thought it had historical significance.

The picture we ran, however, was of the wrong tree.

We havenow learned (from several sources incidentally, that a "Deodara" was pictured.

It is the "Sequoia" in the lawn at the campus that the ladies want saved.

We are "up a tree" in this case, wouldn't you say?

Planning Commission defers action on high-rise building

What had been anticipated as the main feature of the Planning Commission meeting on Monday night (modified plans for a multi-story building at Hamilton and Llewellyn) was continued until Tuesday, Sept. 7 when hopefully all the commissioners will be on hand.

However, approved by the abbreviated Commission on Monday, however, was a proposed zone change on properties on E. Campbell Ave., from Barbano Drive to the freeway.

The Commission recommended that the various zones now in effect in that sector be changed to P-D (planned development) to allow better control on the development.

Speaking against the zone change was Richard Morton, Campbell native, this city's first mayor and a prominent San Jose attorney. Morton representing his mother who owns three parcels on Campbell Ave. next to Union Ave., maintained that the zone change was unnecessary.

The commissioners, however voted unanimously for the zone change.

On Monday night, only four commissioners were present when the application of Central Development Co. for a nine-story commercial-office-apartment complex came to bat.

The Planning Commission had previously turned down the application by the City Council because of modifications in the plans, including the reduction to eight stories.

The request for continuance was made by G. R. Prior, company president, after Chairman Scott pointed out that it would take a unanimous voting by the four commissioners present to take action.

For most of the meeting, however, there were five commissioners present, as Bob Stewart arrived late. Present were Scott, Don Hebard, Carl Larson and Myron Alexander.

Two items on the agenda that also had been continued earlier in the evening were taken up again near the close of the session and approved.

One was the plan for an office building for Peter Paulsen, at 137 and 149 E. Hamilton and the other was a commercial building for A. Martin at 2020 S. Bascom.

Approved also by the Commission were plans submitted by M. H. Podell for a 166-unit apartment at 923-1001 W. Hamilton. (California Savings and Loan was also given approval to move a duplex from 1980 S. Bascom to Michael Drive (see front page picture). Also approved were plans submitted by Robert Walker for two buildings at 200 Cristich Lane.

The Commission also approved the application of John Froese for a waiver on "O" zone requirements at 710 W. West Valley Drive and approved the zone change request from R-1 to R-M for James H. Belcher for property on Burrows and Pollard Rds.

A variance was granted the Santa Clara Valley Holiness Church for a sideyard setback at 40 S. Union and also for Robert R. Walker for rearyard setback at 200 Cristich Ln.

The Commission also recommended that "flea markets" be classified as a use in a C-2-S zone. Merchants in the Campbell Shopping Center (Latimer at Winchester) had requested that a determination of the classification be made.

United Fund drive starts

Early progress in the 1971 Santa Clara County United Fund campaign will be in the hands of 18 firms and their employees who have agreed to "set the pace" for the drive, which officially begins September 1.

Joining forces to aid United Fund with an early push to set Fair Share giving examples for other givers' groups in the county are: American Micro-Systems, Inc.; El Camino Hospital; four branches of The Emporium; Ferry-Morse Seed Co.; Philco-Ford Corp.; Singer-Link Division; Western Electric Co.; I.A.M. Each of the employee groups has agreed to help set the mood for the 1971 effort by conducting early employee drives, and encouraging participation by contributors at Fair Share Levels of support. Their campaigns will conclude September 30.

Fair Share, according to UF campaigners, is a suggested guide to giving.

Persons making up to $10,000 yearly are asked to consider one hour's pay per month as a contribution. Above that figure, one per cent of salary is the suggested Fair Share.

To make it easier for you to find phone numbers for government offices, now there's a quick reference page in the Yellow Pages. Under "G" for "Government Offices" you'll find listings for important city, county, state and federal offices. West Valley College may cut tax rate

A final budget of $23.8 million was adopted by West Valley College Trustees Thursday night, indicating a possible drop in the tax rate from the previous year's 94 cents to approximately 90 cents.

Although Superintendent-President James P. Hardy pointed out that the actual rate will be set by the County Board of Supervisors, he indicated that higher assessed valuation and reduction of the operating expenditures this year could lower the tax.

The budget breakdown shows $22.2 million in the general fund, $1.2 million in the special reserve fund, $238 thousand in a campus center building budget, and $190 thousand in a student union fund budget.

The budget reflects a slower pace building program on the Saratoga campus this year. Two complexes, the humanities-fine arts building and the business education-student personnel-administration building, will begin construction this year.

Letters to the Editor

MISLEADING

Dear Editor:

In your report (8-11-71) on the CUSD Board of Trustees meeting of August 5, you stated in a paragraph regarding the salary increase package, that..."Ralph Britton, of the West Valley Federation of Teachers, who was present at the budget hearing, voiced criticism of the Board's action." This leads readers to believe that Mr. Britton was criticizing the Board's action relating to the salary increase.

This was not the case. Mr. Britton made no criticism of the Board's salary adoption. His objection related to a discriminatory income protection plan, which gives greater benefits to teachers who belong to a particular organization, and to a discriminatory sabbatical leave plan, which, as it provides only half salary, will be of no use to the great majority of career teachers who support a family. Mr. Britton raised these objections on behalf of the many teachers in the district who will receive unequal or no benefit from these two proposals.

WVFT acknowledges that the Board's actions have improved the economic conditions of CUSD employees. However, we feel some of the proposals adopted by the Board were ill-considered, poorly thought out, and not in the best interests of the teachers or the district.

Fraternally,
Lynne M. Olivieri

Tax bills must be paid by Aug. 31

Unsecured personal property taxes are now due and they will become delinquent if they are not paid by 5 p.m. on Aug. 31, Edward N. Glaeser, the county director of finance, reports. Penalties will be added after that date.

Unsecured property includes such things as inventory, fixtures and equipment, improvements on leased property, boats, airplanes and all other personal property not included in the regular real estate or property tax bill.

To be paid on time the taxes must reach the Tax Collector's Office, first Floor, 70 W. Hedding St., San Jose, by 5 p.m., Glaeser explained, Payments sent by mail must be postmarked before 5 p.m.

Glaeser warned that the state law requires him to add a six per cent penalty, plus costs, to any tax bill not paid by that time. If the taxes are not paid by Dec. 31 an additional charge of one per cent per month is added.

Unsecured personal property taxes are based on the value of the property on the lien date, which was March 1, for the 1971 tax year. An owner is still responsible for the tax on personal property sold or otherwise disposed of after the lien date.

Bringing up fido

By Sally Howe

The sound is indescribable.

Fido heard it before I did and was on his feet barking frantically at the screen door.

I unceremoniously shoved him back and ran out the door.

She lay in the middle of the street.

Fortunately, traffic had showed and she was in no immediate secondary danger.

Late as it was on a Saturday night, people gathered 'round. Her hindquarters seemed paralyzed. Someone brought a towel and I lifted her into my arms. She didn't weigh much. She lay very still.

"Gosh, I sure didn't see her," came a voice from the crowd. For once, someone who felt responsible stopped. "She just ran out into the street."

If the victim had been a child, we would've all blamed the motorist, but since it was a small brown dog, there was no one THERE TO blame.

There IS someone to blame though. Unfortunately, he isn't the kind who reads this column.

The dog's owner.

This was not the first time they'd seen the little dog wandering around, the neighbor children told me. "She's loose all the time."

"Well", as the veterinarian who left his home that night to great her said, "she'll never again have to cross a street or suffer pain." For, after two hours, her little body, bruised and battered, decided to give up its fight for life.

Sandra and Richard take vows

Calvary Baptist Church was the setting for the afternoon double-ring ceremony which united Sandra Stromberg and Richard A. Lohsen.

Dr. Blaine Bishop officiated at the ceremony, in which Roy T. Stromberg of San Jose escorted his daughter to the altar.

Sandra, a graduate of University of California at Davis, designed her off-white peau de soie gown, with empire bodice, long sleeves and a high neckline, trimmed in lace.

Honor attendant was her sister, Karen, who wore a long sleeved gown with a white bodice and a salmon dotted swiss skirt with daisy print. Sandra's bouquet was a nosegay of miniature carnations centered with a white orchid, while her sister and bridesmaids Diane Lohsen, sister of the groom, and Michael Prettol, wearing identical gowns carried baskets of daisies and carnations.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Lohsen of Campbell, chose Charles Dollbaum as his best man. Ushering duties were performed by Donald Charles Waldman and Paul Grimm.

Richard is a graduate of Del Mar High School and University of California at Davis. Sandra graduated from Campbell High School.

Mrs. Evelyn Stromberg of Campbell wore a pale green dress with bone accessories and Mrs. Richard H. Lohsen chose a salmon color dress. Both wore corsages of yellow orchids.

A reception for the newlyweds was held in the church's Fireside Room where they cut a three-tierd cake before leaving on a honeymoon to Carmel.

They will make their home in Corvallis, Oregon, where the groom will do graduate work.

Duane and Gwynn united

MR. and MRS. DUANE OWEN PETERSON

Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Saratoga was the setting for the afternoon ceremony which united Gwynn Ellen Clark and Duane Owen Peterson recently.

Wild flowers and baby's breath made up the bouquet carried by Gwen, when she was escorted to the altar by her father, Marvin P. Clark of Saratoga.

The Westmont High graduate wore a gown of lace on satin, with a scooped neck, long sleeves and nylon on a satin skirt. Her chapel mantilla veil was elbow length and a train attached to the gown completed the costume.

Her maid of honor, Cindy Clark, wore a floor length light blue chiffon dress, as did her bridesmaids Sally Pasquali and Mary Marr. All three carried bouquets of wildflowers.

John Westbrook was best man. Ushering duties were performed by Mike Moore, Jim Carter and Craig Peterson. Mrs. Marvin Clark chose a light blue long sleeved crepe gown for her daughter's wedding, complimented with a hat of light blue net.

Duane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Peterson of Campbell and attended Campbell High School. Her mother chose a black and white sleeveless paisley and wore a broad rimmed hat for the service.

Following a trip to Carmel Highlands, the justweds are moving to Eureka, where Duane will continue his studies at Humboldt State College.

HOSPITAL AUXILIAN--- Laura Gardner, right, was received into full membership of Good Samaritan Hospital Auxiliary recently when 61 members were received into full membership, marking completion of a six month provisional training period. Also representing Campbell was Mrs. Clyde Bring. Laura is pictured with her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Gardner, also a member of the auxiliary.

Sodality plans melodrama

"He Ain't Done Right By Nell" written by Wilbur Braun and directed by Cindy Muhlman, is the name of the old-fashioned melodrama planned by the St. Frances Cabrini Ladies' Sodality and Holy Name Society, 15333 Woodard Rd. in Cambrian Park.

Cast for the melodrama will be auditioned on Aug. 24 and 25. Oleo and vaudeville acts will audition on Aug. 26 in Father Essig Hall at 8 p.m.

There is a need for actors, dancers, comedians, stagehands, costumers, pianist, and a master of ceremonies. No experience is necessary. If possible auditioners should bring music and material for vaudeville acts.

For further information, contact Barbara Ballentine, 356-6643 or Bonnie Alonzo, 356-3250.

Pictures on highway signs replace words

Signs that tell drivers what to do through pictures instead of words will soon become commonplace on California state highways.

The new symbol signs are intended for international use and should be of particular value to non-English speaking motorists in this country and to Americans who travel abroad.

According to State Highway Engineer John A. Legarra, the California Division of Highways intends to be doubly safe by posting a word message plate below each sign for at least the next few years so that drivers won't have to guess the meaning of the symbols.

At a pedestrian crossing, for example, the black silhouette of a walking man will be displayed on a yellow background with a separate sign beneath that reads "Ped. Xing."

Above the sign "Slippery When Wet" the symbol will depict a skidding vehicle. The car will be black and the background yellow. Drivers will soon learn to associate this basic black and yellow combination with highway signs that warn them with pictures of such things as "Low Clearance", "Signal Ahead", "School", and "Deer Crossing".

All the regulatory signs will employ the color red to indicate danger to those who fail to heed them. Those that will be installed first include "Yield", "Do not Enter", "No Left Turn", "No Right Turn", and "No U Turn".

According to Legarra, the symbol signs will be installed as replacements for word message signs that are damaged or become illegible through years of exposure to the weather. They will also be placed on new construction projects and other sites where a sign is installed for the first time.

The use of the symbol signs is in keeping with an international road policy adopted in 1968 by the United Nations Road Traffic Conference at a meeting in Austria. Some of the symbols recommended at the conference are incorporated in the Federal Highway Administration's publication that will soon be issued, "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices for Streets and Highways".

The California Traffic Control Devices Committee selected the symbol signs for use in California. Committee members are the Division of Highways, California Highway Patrol, the League of California Cities, the County Supervisors Association, the Automobile Club of Southern California, and the California State Automobile Association.

NEED HOME

The Day Care Center and Operation Head Start which have been located at St. Lawrence Episcopal Church are seeking a new home---at least, the Day Care Center is.

Officials of the program have decided that the facilities are not large enough to house both programs and are looking for a 1,000 to 2,000 square foot building plus room to make a play yard.

For information call Mrs. Sample at Head Start, 299-2417.

Open rehearsal for symphony

The Los Gatos-Saratoga Symphony will hold an open rehearsal on Monday, Sept. 13 for anyone interested in joining the orchestra for the coming season.

Information regarding auditions will be given at this time, according to John O'Neill, musical director.

Rehearsals are held every Monday evening from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at Fisher Junior High School on Roberts Rd. in Los Gatos. Strings are especially needed, and there are some openings for wind instruments, said O'Neill.

A community orchestra, the Los Gatos-Saratoga Symphony was founded seven years ago to provide the many musicians who live in the Santa Clara Valley with the opportunity of performing.

Its members include doctors, engineers, teachers, students and housewives. It is supported by members of the Los Gatos-Saratoga Symphony Society and West Valley College, and offers its concerts free of charge.

Youth Commission Publishes Book for Youth and Parents

The Campbell Youth Advisory Commission has recently compiled a 22 page booklet, entitled "Guide for Parents and Youth" which they are distributing through the City of Campbell and the Chamber of Commerce.

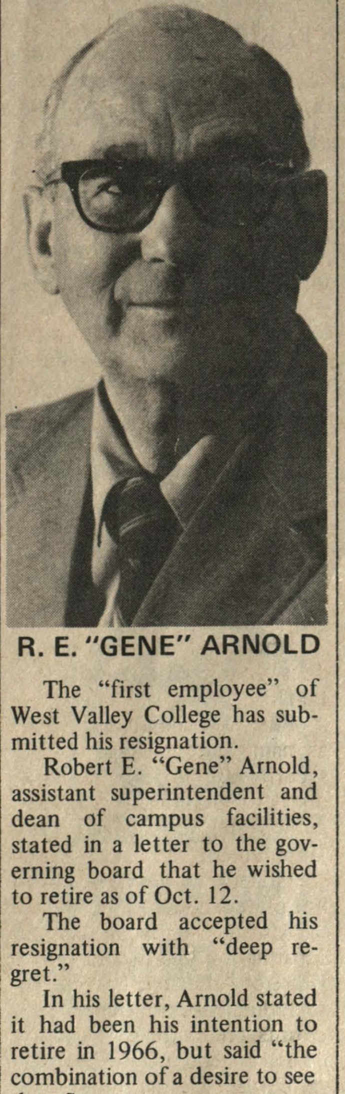
The book is dedicated to hospitalized Chief of Police John D. Morgan and contains information as to what steps should be taken to impress upon young people the value of knowing the law, knowing how to contact the police, their rights and liabilities as well as their own responsibilities.

Chapters contain suggestions to parents as to what to do in cases of a missing child, how to train the child to start school and tips to the children on what steps to take when approached by strangers.

A section in the book is devoted to fire prevention and safety and another to first aid.

Copies are available at City Hall, 75 N. Central Ave., and the Chamber of Commerce, 100 W. Rincon, according to Rusty Hammer, chairman of the Youth Advisory Commission.

First employee retires from WV college



R. E. "GENE" ARNOLD

The "first employee" of West Valley College has submitted his resignation.

Robert E. "Gene" Arnold, assistant superintendent and dean of campus facilities, stated in a letter to the governing board that he wished to retire as of Oct. 12.

The board accepted his resignation with "deep regret."

In his letter, Arnold stated it had been his intention to retire in 1966, but said "the combination of a desire to see the Saratoga campus completed and the fine working relationship with (the college) has been of such great personal satisfaction that this was postponed."

All planning for the Saratoga campus has now been completed and funds for all academic buildings have been made available to the college.

Arnold was the first employee hired by the district in May of 1963. He served as acting superintendent of the district before the governing board hired Dr. Wallace W. Hall later that same year.

Born Oct. 10, 1911 in Kansas, Arnold moved to California in 1923. He was graduated from San Jose State College in 1935 with a major in Physical education and a minor in science. He earned his master's from Stanford and holds general elementary, secondary, pupil personnel and general administration credentials.

For 16 years he served as the Deputy Superintendent and Director, Department of Attendance and Juvenile Services in the Santa Clara County Superintendent of School's office and from 1953 to 1963 was a part-time instructor at San Jose State.

He is currently commissioned to the Central Coast Section of the California Interscholastic Federation - a federation of high school athletic groups from throughout California.

Arnold is a member or past member of many professional organizations such as: CTA, PTA, CASCWA, International Association of Pupil Personnel Workers, NEA, Phi Delta Kappa, Council of Educational Facilities Planners, member of Methodist Church and various Masonic organizations including Fraternity Lodge No. 399 and San Jose Scottish Rite.

He is also past president of the Santa Clara County Coordinating Youth Council, San Jose State Alumni Association, Phi Delta Kappa, Alpha Omega Field Chapter, and CASCWA (Bay Section and State).

His family includes his wife, Marian, and his son, Bob.

Arnold's position at the college will remain unfilled for the present, since planning of the Saratoga campus has been completed and planning for the Mission College site in Santa Clara is not scheduled to begin for some time.

Coop program benefits students

Two area residents are studying engineering this summer as part of a new Cooperative Education Program at the University of the Pacific School of Engineering in Stockton.

Robert Bakich, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bakich of Campbell, is working with Collins Electrical Company in Stockton and Robert Corchero, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Corchero of San Jose, is working with the Alameda County Public Works Department in Hayward.

Bakich, an electrical engineering major, and Corchero, a civil engineering major, will alternate work experience with classroom subjects during the last three years of a five-year program at UOP.

The co-op program will allow the students to earn approximately $10,000 during the three years. Pacific is one of the few West Coast schools with such a program, and implementation of the Cooperative Education Program here has resulted in a doubling of the enrollment at the UOP School of Engineering.

Credit reports available to judge family credit rating

How much do you know about your own credit rating?

More than likely there is a file about you in a nearby credit bureau, perhaps in several credit bureaus.

Those files contain information that is highly important to you and your family. A good rating may be worth its weight in gold if you're applying for credit, or for insurance, perhaps even for employment.

A poor rating may be the cause of a turn-down on your application. For this reason, it is important to you that the information on your record be both accurate and up to date.

Effective April 25. 1971. the new federal "Fair Credit Reporting Act" gave you the right to find out what information is in your file at the credit bureau, and also the source of this information.

You may have to pay a few dollars (perhaps five) for this service if your purpose is simply to satisfy your curiosity. On the other hand, if you've been turned down on an application because of a credit report, there will be no fee.

If you find information on your report with which you disagree, the credit bureau must check it out.

Errors do occur occasionally. In case of an error, this must be corrected. If you disagree with findings and no correction is made, you may insert a brief statement giving your side of the story.

At your request this addition must be sent to anyone who received a credit report on you in the last six months.

Another protection offered by the new law is that there are real limitations as to who can have access to your records. There are some who feel that this part of the law needs still further strengthening.

KIND OF INFO

What kind of information does your credit report contain?

First, the basic data such as name, address, age, social security number, whether you own or rent, employment, income, spouse's name, age, employment, income and social security number, number of dependents.

Also in your record is such information as location and types of your credit accounts, including loan, charge accounts, credit cards.

Each account is listed by date opened, date of last sale, highest amount of credit, also a rating by each creditor in terms of meeting your obligations when due. Included will be a general picture of the size of your checking and savings balance, i.e. average savings--medium three figures, checking--same.

How long is the information on your credit rating effective?

Will a bad debt of ten years ago ruin your record for years ahead? Most items may not be reported after seven years. Bankruptcies are listed for fourteen years, however.

There are some exceptions, of course.

A word to the wise is in order. A person is the architect of his own credit rating, in general. Moderate use of credit, coupled with good habits of meeting obligations, should provide everyone with enviable records at the credit bureau.

WARNING SIGNALS

Most families are users of credit in one form or another. Two out of three new cars, for example, are bought on the installment plan.

Few families would own their own home if they couldn't buy it on a mortgage plan. Many other families enjoy the convenience of charge accounts or credit cards. If used wisely, credit offers some real advantages.

But there are pitfalls for the unwary and the careless user of credit.

The average U.S. family uses about 14 per cent of take-home pay for debt payments. (Not including mortgage payments.) If that 14 per cent has grown to 20 or 25 percent, this should serve as a warning signal.

If your balance due on revolving charges gets larger and larger, take time to look over your "charge" habits. Chances are you'll decide to avoid charging more items for a while.

It's often easier to add charges than to make the payments when these come due. Try to keep the day of reckoning in view.

If you have installment contracts, the longer your contract runs, the greater your total interest costs will be. It's a good idea to think twice before you opt for the smallest payments which, in turn, mean a longer life for your contract.

Sometimes, when too many payments become burdensome, a family resorts to yet another loan to pay off debts. This is "debt consolidation". "One easy payment" may lead to a false sense of security, and credit purchasing may continue unabated.

If delinquency notices arrive regularly, remember, even a few overdue notices should alert the family to a serious situation.

How would you rate your family in terms of your use of credit?

Oriental vegetables grow well on coast

Is nothing sacred any more?

"Corned beef and cabbage are a combination so firmly established in the American cuisine that serving one without the other seems almost a heresy," Ken Kitasako, manager of the Pismo-Oceano Vegetable Exchange admitted to the Council of California Growers. "But the fact is you haven't lived until you eliminate the cabbage and substitute nappa."

Kitasako wasn't playing favorites since the eight-grower co-op he heads produces and markets cabbage - both red and green - as well as increasingly popular Oriental vegetables, nappa and bok choy.

Measured against California's 1970 production of 41.1 million tons of farm commodities, Oriental vegetables would fall well down the list of the more than 200 items grown.

"But where we used to ship maybe a crate or two a day, now we're marketing up to 200 crates of nappa and bok choy daily," Kitasako said.

The Pismo-Oceano Vegetable Exchange markets the produce of its Japanese-American grower members who farm 800 acres on the central California coast.

"Celery, romaine, bell peppers, tomatoes and brussels sprouts are our major items," Kitasako said, "But several in our group - Haruo and Aki Hayshi, Ken Kobara and the Ikeda brothers - are responding to the increasing appetite for Oriental vegetables."

Nappa grows 8 to 10 inches tall, is broad-stemmed and large-leafed. Washed, cut up and boiled, it readily soaks up meat flavors, enhancing the taste of pork, meat balls and, yes, even corned beef. "It's great pickled, too," Kitasako added, producing fare the Koreans call "kim chee" and the Japanese "tsukemono."

Bok choy resembles Swiss chard, tall and white-stemmed with small, broad leaves. It's widely used in Chinese dishes but now is regularly stocked in the fresh produce section of California supermarkets.

Excluded from California early in World War II, Americans of Japanese ancestry returned to the state at war's end and quickly re-established themselves as productive and successful farmers. "Our growers farm between 40 and 250 acres each, "Kitasako said in attributing to the increasing taste for Oriental vegetables the viability of a livelihood achieved from limited acreage. He cited other Oriental favorites - sugar peas and China peas - as good income producers, justifying regular use of air-freight in transit to Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and other eastern centers.

"The Japanese-American farmer is a highly valued component of California agriculture, with the perseverance and skills that have made him outstanding in vegetable crop production," said O. W. Fillerup of the Council of California Growers.

THE LEDGER, by Dorothy Uhnak (Fiction)

Mrs. Uhnak combines her first-hand knowledge of police work with first rate talent for good storytelling in this her third mystery with Christie Opara, First Grade Detective. The novel is about the Squad's efforts to break up a billion-dollar narcotics ring and to nail Enzo Giardino, the mafioso who heads it. It is also the touching story of Elena Vargas, a brillant young Puerto Rican prostitute who is high in the syndicate's echelons and possibly the key to the entire organization. Christie Opara's maneuvers to crack Elena's enamel facade for the secrets behind it are portrayed in scenes and dialogues between them that are memorable for their high tension and scathing bitchiness.

Nuptials at St. Lucy's

A traditional white gown was worn by Theodora Marie Cieszko when she and Paul Francis Page exchanged vows at St. Lucy's Church recently.

Rev. William T. O'Keeffe conducted the morning Nuptial Mass in which Andrew Parlato, uncle of the bride, escorted her to the altar.

For the wedding, Theodora wore a floor length traditional taffeta with Bishop cuff sleeves. Her Venice lace headpiece had a pearl cluster in its center.

Debra DeMattei of San Jose, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Adeline Stasi of Campbell, aunt of the bride, was wedding hostess.

Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Page of San Rafael is director of open housing center for the Council of Civic Unity in San Francisco and music director of St. Lucy's.

Best man was Lane V. Page; ushers were Robert Parlato and Gary DeMattei, cousins of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at St. Michael's Greek Orthodox Church in Saratoga. Mr. and Mrs. Page then left for a wedding trip to Disneyland.

Theodora is a teacher at Prospect High School and is an alumnus of Delta Zeta Sorority. Her husband is now working on a ballet which will be produced in December at Dominican College in San Rafael.

Railroad museum in Mother Lode provides authentic collection

There's a new railroad museum up in the southern part of the Mother Lode Country. It's called "Rail Town 1897" and it's located in Jamestown, not far from Sonora. With its authentic old-time depot and impressive collection of locomotives and cars, it is one of the best railroad museums in the West, reports the California State Automobile Association.

The first thing you see when you drive up to the museum is the depot, it's been freshly painted and dolled up a bit but it's the real thing, all right and inside you can see the original furniture and office equipment as well as timetables and tickets to towns and places now forgotten.

The depot may strike a "where have I seen that before" thought in your mind. If it does, it's because the station and some of the old-time trains there have been used in many movies, including "High Noon", "Dodge City", "Duel In the Sun", and "My Little Chickadee". The television show "Petticoat Junction" has also been filmed here.

Near the depot is a large roundhouse and inside are some of the shiniest and best-maintained old railroad engines you'll see anywhere. Among the collection of beauties are a 4-6-0 Rogers built in 1891, a 2-8-0 Baldwin built in 1922 and a 2-8-2 Baldwin built in 1925. You'll also see the tiny passenger cars used on the Sierra Railway's Angels branch run---these are used frequently in movie work. The cabooses, crane cars and other pieces of equipment are open for your inspection.

One of the fascinating parts of touring the shop area is to observe the blacksmith at work on a locomotive or some other piece of rolling stock. You may also see how the track was laid in the early days of railroading.

The Sierra Railroad is still an operating standard gauge railroad. Every afternoon the modern diesel engines pull trains up the mainline past Rail Town on their way to the Pickering Lumber Company in Standard. The company's present line extends from Oakdale at the edge of the San Joaquin Valley, through Sonora and on up to Tuolumne City.

The Sierra Railroad's old-time trains are available for charter trips. You can get information about these trips by writing to Excursion Director, Sierra Railroad, 781 S. Washington St., Sonora, Calif. 95370.

Construction crew totals 700 on PG&E Diablo nuclear unit

Nearly 700 men, aided by the latest in construction machinery, are on the job building Pacific Gas and Electric Company's first 1,060,000-kilowatt nuclear generating unit at Diablo Canyon in San Luis Obispo County.

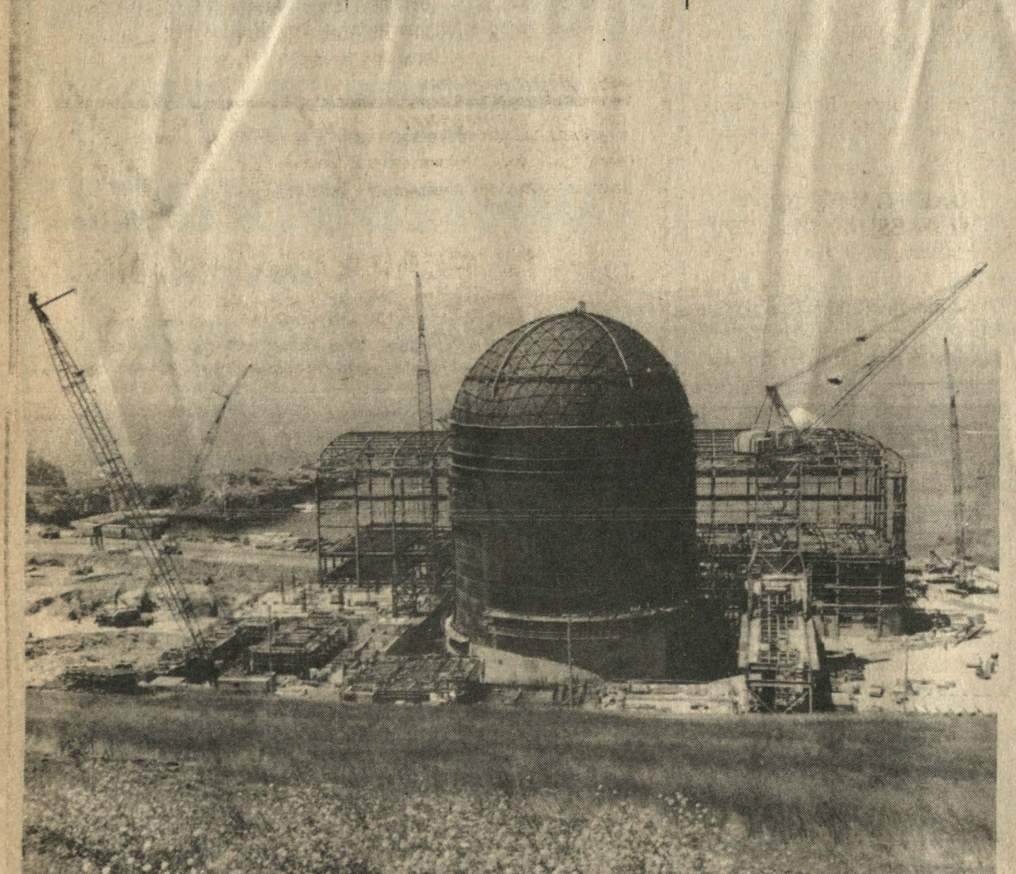
Present monthly payroll at the site averages $1,000,000, according to PG&E's project superintendent William R. Hersey. Peak employment at the site during construction will run as high as 1,000 about mid-1972.

When completed, the first unit will permanently employ approximately 65 men, most of them highly skilled technicians.

The complex is located on a 735-acre site on the Pacific Ocean, 12 miles southwest of San Luis Obispo.

Unit 1, to cost approximately $200 million, is 23 per cent complete, Hersey indicated. Construction of the major buildings is 55 per cent complete. This unit is scheduled for commercial operation in the spring of 1974. Excavation for the nearly identical Unit 2 is under way. The second unit is scheduled for commercial operation in mid-1975.

Four major structures are currently under construction. These are the reactor containment, the auxiliary building (control and monitoring center for both units), the turbine-generator building and two breakwaters. The two units together will require an estimated 200,000 cubic yards of concrete, 22,000 tons of reinforcing steel and 8,000 tons of structural steel. To date, 107,000 cubic yards of concrete, 9,000 tons of reinforcing steel, and 3,600 tons of structural steel are in place.



CONSTRUCTION PROGRESS AT DIABLO CANYON ---Construction of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's first 1,060,000-kilowatt nuclear generating facility continues in San Luis Obispo County. The heart of Unit 1, its pressurized-water reactor, will be located in the dome-shaped reactor containment structure (center) along with four steam generators. Power will be produced by a 1800 rpm turbine-generator located in the building to the rear. The auxiliary building (left) will be the control and monitoring center for two units. Foundation excavation has started for the second unit (far left).

In 1776, the Rev. Louis E. Lotbiniere was appointed to serve with the American Revolutionary forces under Gen. Benedict Arnold, the first Catholic chaplain in the American armed services.

America the Beautiful?

Or Ugly Pollution? The Choice Is Ours...

Will "the purple mountain's majesty" and other American beauties give way to the ugliness of mountains of trash, and the blot of pollution on earth, air and water?

Keeping America beautiful is a job that belongs to each of us—a job we should be proud to do, and a job we must do, for our future and our children's future.

Don't pass the buck to somebody else—act now! How can you help? By keeping things clean! Stop litter . . . dispose of trash properly . . . clean up home, property and car.

Let's get together . . . to stop pollution.

State compiles word catalog for personal license plates

A catalog of words and expressions for use on personal license plates (PLP's) has been compiled by the Department of Motor Vehicles for the convience of PLP customers.

Containing hundreds of combinations which have not yet been issued to anyone, the list is being widely distributed and is available at all California DMV offices.

At least 33,000 personal license plates are already being displayed on the cars of California motorists. The vast majority of people selected common first names, last name, nicknames or initials, and relatively few of these remain.

"This catalog suggests other avenues of self-expression," said Director of Motor Vehicles Robert C. Cozens.

"The number of possible combinations is limited only by the ingenuity of the purchaser. A personal license plate can be suited to the temperament of any vehicle owner, who can order it for his car, motorcycle or pickup truck."

Money paid for PLP's goes into a California Environment Protection Fund. Since the program began last August some $600,000 has been made available for at least seven ecology-oriented projects, principally:

-- $205,000 to the Air Resources Board in order to expand the State's air monitoring program and coordinate air pollution control for the 11 air basins in California.

-- $105,000 to the Air Resources Board to help determine when agricultural burning should not be allowed.

-- $50,000 for a study of anticipated power demands over the next 20 years, including the siting of new plants to meet these demands.

-- $8,200 for the continuation of the Environmental Quality Study Council which is charged with developing state-wide guidelines in all areas of environmental quality.

-- $37,000 to help fund pilot conservation education classes in public schools.

-- $13,500 to the Los Angeles-Ventura Regional Study Commission to evaluate opportunities of establishing an urban national park there.

-- $22,500 to the Department of Aeronautics to help determine the environmental problems of operating local airports.

"Most of the Environmental Fund is dedicated to clean air research and smog control. By purchasing a set of personal license plates Californians can help protect and preserve their state's environment," Cozens said.

County center for alcoholics gets $65,172

Santa Clara County has obtained a grant of $65,172 in federal funds to provide an educational, information and referral campaign aimed at controlling alcoholism. The contract for the grant has been signed by Chairman Dominic Cortese of the Board of Supervisors.

The County will administer the grant and subcontract with the Alcoholism Information Center to conduct the campaign.

The California Council on Criminal Justice recently approved the grant. Sheriff James Geary had endorsed the program earlier.

The center, which is headed by Robert E. Quigley as director, is located at 1500 Los Padres Blvd., Santa Clara.

The agency is starting its second year of operation.

Some 765 men and 364 women sought help and information from the Center on how to curb a drinking habit in its first 12 months of operation, Quigley reports.

During the first six months 300 persons contacted the center for aid, he explained. Today the calls average 109 per week.

Approximately 40 volunteers have donated 8,348 hours to manning the center's telephone "Help Lines" 24 hours per day. Another 15 volunteers are in training to assist in the program.

The center, which is a special project of the Mental Health Association, also provides professional education and training on alcoholism for industries, teachers, other professions and law enforcement officials. The center staff also conducts community education efforts.

How come this kid has more money saved than you do?

Because over the years his parents have invested in U.S. Savings Bonds—in his name, for his future—by participating in the Payroll Savings Plan at work.

He probably doesn't even know. And right now, he couldn't care less. But when he's older, that money can be used for a lot of things—a car, a college education, or even a new home.

The Payroll Savings Plan is an easy way to save money for you and every member of your family. When you join, an amount you designate will be automatically laid aside from your paycheck and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. It's a painless way to save.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and make your son the richest kid on the block.

The entry forms are out this week for the fall-winter season of the Northern California Darts Assn. You practitioners of the sport who have not aligned yourselves with a team should do so now.

All team entries must be in the hands of the competition secretary by September 10. Besides the old stand-bys of the Black Knight, 1781 Winchester Blvd. and the Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave., we also have three other pubs in the area putting together teams.

Cisco's in the Riverside Plaza, Court's at Hamilton and Bascom and Buy-The-Bucket at Union and Curtner. I also understand that the Fish and Chips store in the 1000 block of Saratoga Ave. has installed a board and is looking for a team. If you want to play and you can't find a house to play out of, it's your own fault. There are plenty to choose from.

The Los Gatos players shouldn't have any trouble either. Last year's three pubs will be back and with more teams, too. They are the Lancashire Lad, 15797 San Jose Ave.; Black Watch, 141½ N. Santa Cruz Ave. and Scarlett LaRue's, 15940 San Jose-Los Gatos Rd. The Club Gato, next to the theater, is also looking for a team. So get with it.

BULL AND BUSH CHALLENGE PLAQUE

The Lancashire Lad challenged the Black Knight for possession of the Bull and Bush trophy. The match was played under the all-star rules, that is, there were ten singles games, five doubles games and the team match. At the end of the singles games the score was tied at 5-5, but the Lad surged ahead on the doubles taking four straight for eight points and the match was over 13-5.
